Foreword

The Gladiator "63" was designed to be a summary of the year's activities and the many other things worth remembering from your high school days. For many years after you graduate from Troy High, you will derive hours of pleasure from looking through the pages of this book; reviewing a segment of your early environment that has contributed so much to the formation of your character. These pictures and words will prompt your memory, and you will reacquaint yourself with your past. We hope that this Gladiator, as well as the others published during your high school years, will serve you well as a pictorial record of these formative years, and the events and people that made them important to you.

The Gladiator Staff

Dedication

As a token of sincere respect and gratitude, this yearbook is dedicated to Mrs. Perry by all the students who have benefited by her generous services

The postcard above shows parts of the home town of our foreign exchange student, Helmut Siebert. Helmut, who lives with the family of Gary and Elliott Jones, comes from Luneburg, Germany. Not only has he mastered English, but he is an accomplished twister, too, as shown at left. His stay in America has been educational to both him and the students of Troy High: each gaining insights into the cultures of each other's countries. Helmut is a connoisseur of fine music, including American jazz.

Underclassmen — A revealing study of their behavior and activities.

Underclassmen are an eager group. They show it here in a charge from studyhall.

No, they're not dancing; just stomping ants — a favorite underclassmen sport.

Nobody smiles like that over a textbook; he must have a Playboy hidden behind those covers!

Three underclassmen girls study the arts of Lucretia Borgia.

Sophomore Patti Bordoni smiles respectfully at a passing senior — complying with an unwritten law of the school. Note clenched fist in lap.

This fun loving student was found swinging by her heels from a light fixture.

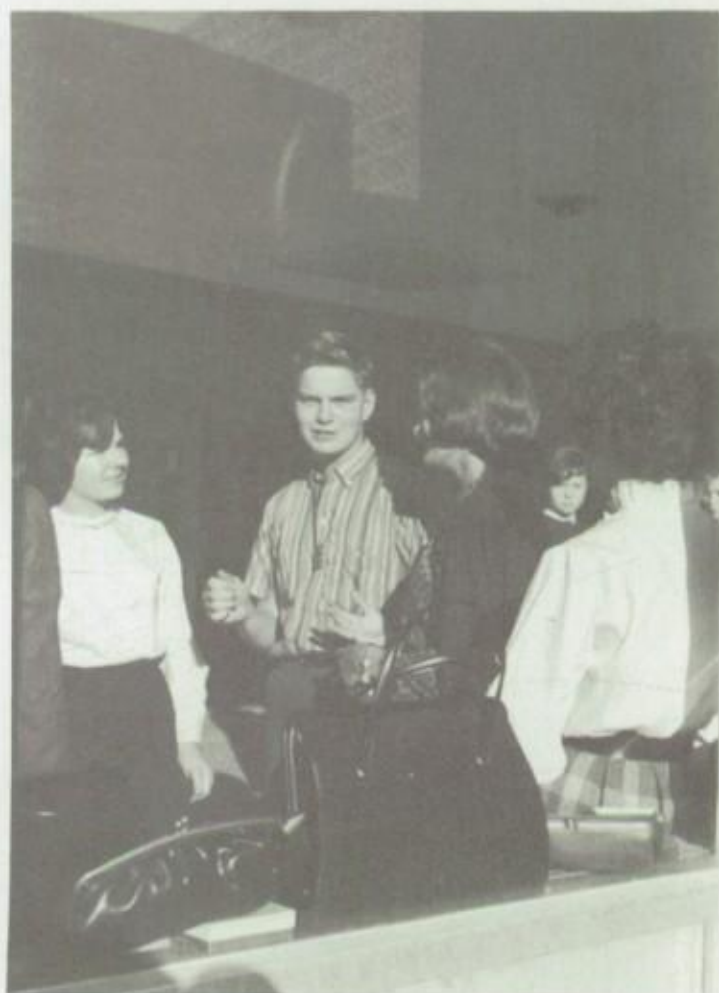

These three were caught in the middle of some illegal transactions involving drugs and smuggled diamonds.

At day's end, four boys reluctantly leave their beloved Troy High.

Symphony Band

Superintendent and Mrs. Smith at reception following concert.

Soloist Albert Couf.

The symphony band is open only to the students able to meet the high standards required for membership. They compete in two competitive festivals a year with other bands in the state, perform at two formal concerts a year, and present two assembly programs for the student body. This year they had three professional soloists at their concerts and presented programs of considerable interest and difficulty.

Concert Band

This ensemble has been newly formed this year, and has proved to be a fine addition to the band department. They compete at contests and perform at two concerts a year. All members are preparing to meet the exacting standards set for this group with eventual membership in the Symphony Band.

Marching Band

Gary Jones - Drum Major

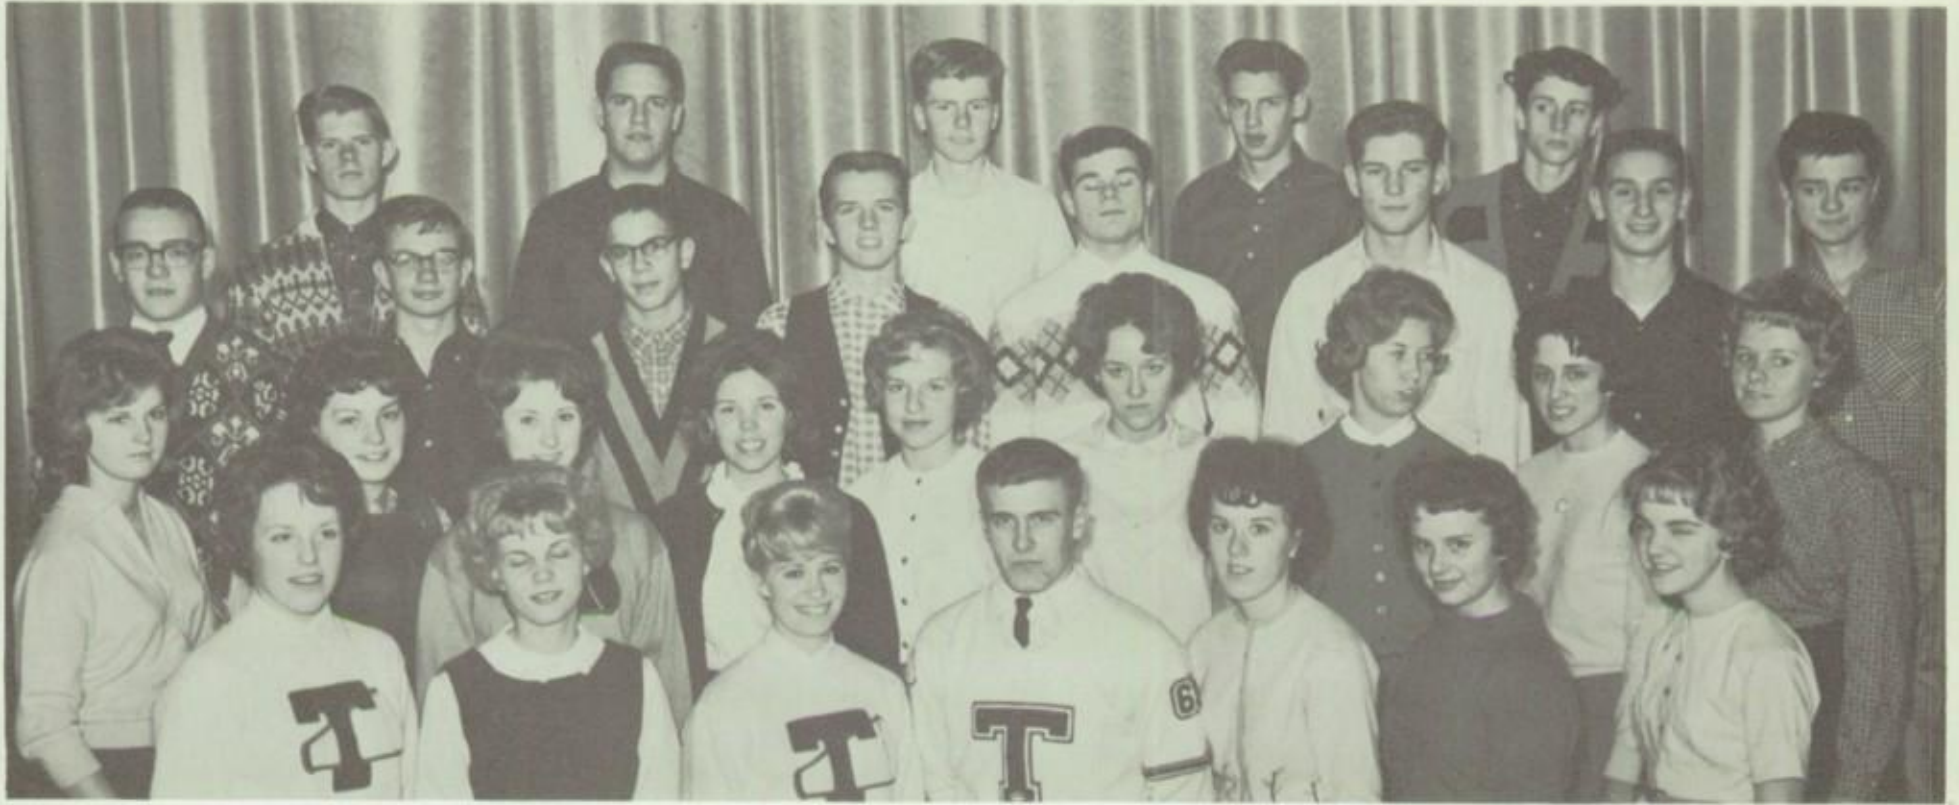

The marching band performs at every home football game and has consistently been invited to march in parades in neighboring cities. Their appearance at half-time has become a much anticipated part of the game. This group is composed of members from both the Symphony and Concert bands. They have presented everything from a steamboat complete with revolving paddlewheel and smokestack, to the latest twist. Junior Grant Hoemke acted as assistant drum major and will take over as head drum major next year.

Homecoming

Glances

We Had Fun!

Social activities at Troy High this year have given students many opportunities for enjoyment through association with their classmates. From the informal gaiety of the bonfire to the sophistication of the prom, there is a wide variety of social experiences open to those who wish to take part in them. These events help to relive us of some of the tensions of schoolwork and add a little color to student life.

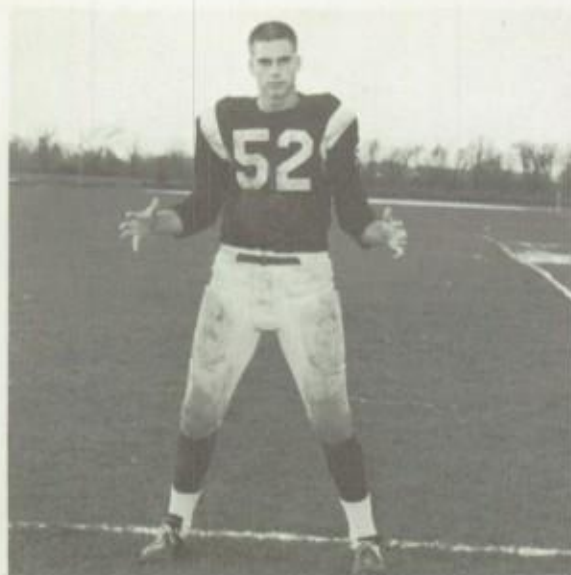

The Homecoming Dance this year was an exuberant celebration of the team's capture of the championship. Beverly Zilli and the girls in the queen's court were quite a spectacle of feminine beauty in formal attire.

The prom of May, 1962, called "Paris by Starlight", was the highpoint of the year's social activities, and this year's prom, "Broadway Review," should prove to be as successful and exciting.

Several open houses at students' homes after football and basketball games were important social events too.

All in all, it's been a gay year for Troy High, as will every year, so long as high school students know how to have fun.

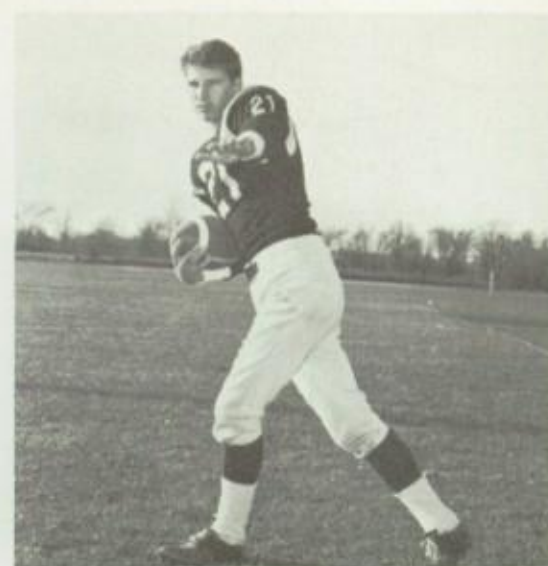

ROGER QUALMANN,
Co-Captain

Two-year letter winner. After leading the team to two early season victories, he was eliminated with a broken ankle. Even from the sidelines he proved a valuable asset to the team. Good luck in college, Roger!

JERRY BURKLAND

When the going got rough Jerry got rougher. He moved fast and hard on both our offensive and defensive lines. One of the best tackles to come out of Troy High.

CHARLEY SHOWALTER

Charley went both ways for us much of the year. The fastest man on the team. A true sportsman and fine athlete. Made a key interception in our game with Clawson. WOW!

The 1962 - 63 Senior

JOHN DENISON, Co-Captain

John got post-season recognition on the All-SOC, All-Oakland County, All-Suburban, All-State, and Honorable Mention All-American teams. Combined school with sports in a high fashion.

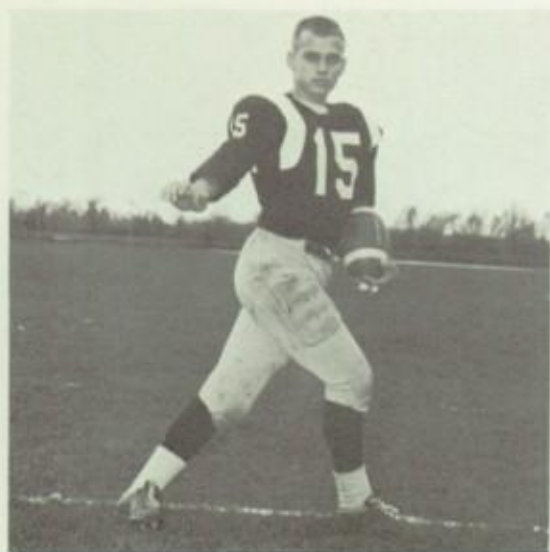

DALE McGAUGHEY

A little pack of big power. Made many key touchdown blocks for us from his offensive guard position. He was always ready to do more than his share. Good luck with the girls!

ALBERT SQUIRE

Two year performer. Another player who is always in the right place. He loved the game and played like it to. Great attitude and a leader on the field.

JIM CRAIGHEAD

Best halfback on the team. His Southern hospitality didn't carry onto the football field. He never lost a yard all year long.

DAVE ARNOTT

Dave was a late developer but turned into a fine defensive ballplayer. One of the boys who made our team great.

GARY McKINNON

Always in the right place at the right time. Helped make our defensive backfield the best in the conference. Great spirit and a fine boy to play ball with.

Football Champions

HAROLD KLUSENDORF

A real ball of fire on the field. Good tackler and a fine blocker. After overcoming an early-season injury, Harry became a mainstay in the defensive backfield.

BILL THURSTON

Bill didn't come out till his senior year but considering his late start he did a fine job for us. Don't hit the Twin Pines too hard, Billy.

TIM DEY

A real Tiger. Loved to hit and be hit. Timmy was another late starter. See ya, Admiral!

FOOTBALL SQUAD CAPTURES OUR FIRST TITLE

This is Troy's first championship, having shared it in the past. Under the watchful eye of coach Bob McElreath, our football squad came out on top this year with an unequalled record of eight wins and no losses! Although our line only averaged 175 pounds we came through with the team's speed and spirit. To our co-captains John Denison and Roger Qualman we owe an extra vote of thanks for sparking our team to victory.

JOHN DENISON,
Co-Captain

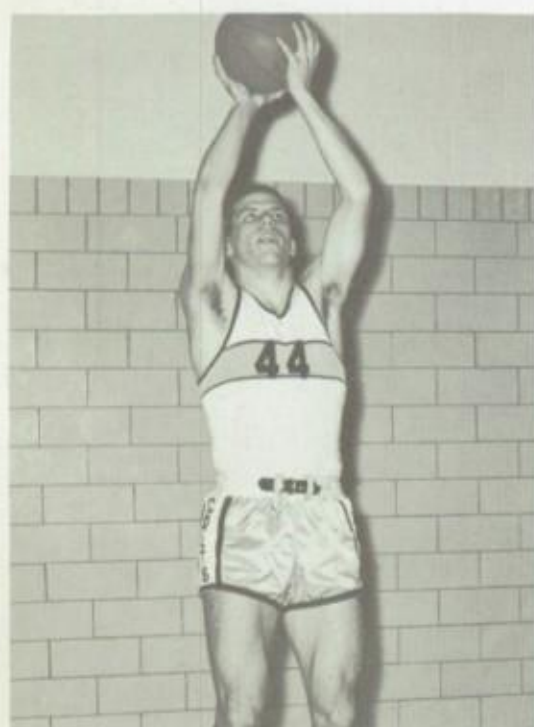

John was second highest scorer on the team. He also was a fine man on the boards. He had his good games and his bad ones but was always ready to give his best.

CHARLEY SHOWALTER

The hustler on the squad. Lifted the ball from our opponents innumerable times. His offensive abilities won us the Oak Park game.

Coach Goodwin's 1963

BILL MUIR, Co-Captain

A very fine basketball player and a good student as well. Bill pulled us out of several tight spots in our climb to the co-championship. Has the fight to become a good college ballplayer.

ROGER QUALMANN

Our big gun this year. He was both board man and high scorer. Roger was selected to the All-SOC squad for his fine play. Could have been better if he had worked harder.

JIM CRAIGHEAD

Jimmy came to us from Nashville, Tennessee. Since they play a different type of offense down there, it was difficult for him to catch onto our type of ball. But his spirit was an asset to the team anyway. Good luck in the future, you hillbilly you!

RICHARD FREER

Rich was another ball hawk. His hustle and drive made him a varsity calibre ball player. He was liked and respected by all because of his sense of humor and desire.

Senior Champs

GARY McKINNON

Preseason casualty. At the present time he is the school's one armed bandit. Very good athlete and could have been an asset to anybody's team.

HAROLD KLUSENDORF

Harry must have thought he was another Samson because he refused to cut his hair. A real fighter on and off the court. He was an incentive to the rest of the team.

TROY SHARES OAKLAND A TITLE

Troy's 1963 basketball team wrote one of the most fabulous comeback stories in the school's history. After the quintet had lost its first two games, it stormed back to win fifteen in a row before losing in the district final to Warren.

The co-championship the Colts gained by winning those fifteen contests was certainly deserved by this hard fighting squad.

Class of "63"

Since many of our seniors are worried about what the next few years may bring, we consulted the ancient Trojan oracle. This prophetic one, searching through his dark books, made a number of predictions, delivered in modern verse. Here are a few samples;

Sandee Bidwell: She'll study physics, as she ought;
 And be the first girl astronaut;
 For a while she won't be seein' us;
 She is going to land on Venus.

Jim Krepps: Venice West, or San Francisco bound Is where this local Dharma Bum will soon be found.

Elaine Carlson: Zelda Gilroy will be her new name.
 She'll go to Hollywood, get on the Dobie Gillis show, and work her way
 To understudy fame.

Tom Medici: Like Lorenzo, and others of his Machiavellian line,
 He'll become the richest politician of his time.

Prophecy

Nina Mikiczenko: A stripper at the Roxy is where she'll be,
Billed as "Miss Vodka ---1973".

Peggy Kingsbury: In my crystal ball there floats a fog,
But I see her some day with

A husband, fourteen children, and a dog.

Roger Drummond: Than this man's future there's nothing finer.
He'll make his money smuggling guns and Capitalist slaves into Communist China.

Bill Muir: Babe Ruth, Jim Thorpe, stand outta the way;
Here comes Bill Muir, greatest marble-shooter of His day.

- I, Corinne Almer, will to Chris Smith, my broken-down car with the low springs.
- I, Syd Austin, being of sound mind and body, hereby bequeth my old socks to one Phillip Leslie in hopes that he may put them to good use.
- I, Chris Bear, will to the esteemed solo clarinetist and my dear friend, Doug Pearson, one cracked clairinet reed and one frippy clarinet solo.
- I, Kitty Beaulieu, will to Donald Armstrong my lacey pink bloomers.
- I, Sandee Bidwell, will to Barbara Hall my hair bows; all of 'em.
- I, Jamie Blair, will to Jim Blair innumerable things, including my government book, my understanding teachers, and my locker.
- I, Larry Bronson, will to Ken MacColman my car.
- I, Don Burchard, will to Nancy White all the teachers I have disliked.
- I, Carol Burkett, will my lockless locker to all those who hate combinations.
- I, Gerald Burkland, being of sane mind and perfect physical condition, will to Phil Lesley 10 pounds of fine threaded automobile nuts and bolts for him to do with as he pleases.
- I, Elaine Carlson, leave my introvert personality to Connie Thompson.
- I, Ron Christensen, will to Jim Sova one bottle of Bromo Seltzer to use after eating a school lunch.
- I, Jim Craighead, will my good study habits and grades to Jan Fisher.
- I, Diane Dill, will to Rich "una Latin liberi".
- I, Richard Dill Jr., will to Dave Johnson an old floor conversion kit for a '57 Ford. Also a pint of Seagrams 7 Crown to carry him through his senior year. (editor's note: the above mentioned pint of Seagram's has been confiscated for the personal use of this editor. Dave Johnson will have to find another bottle, or perish during his senior year.)
- I, Joe Dorris being of sane mind and colored physical condition, will my gold and green hair spray to the less colorful students of the school.
- I, Roger Drummond, being of sound mind and body, spent all my money while I was in school, HOWEVER, I will to Bill Williams my suavity, my sense of humor, and an empty Care package.
- I, Roger Ekstrom, being of sound mind and body, hereby will my pointed shoes and pegged pants to Mr. Richard Chalk.
- I, Sue Glowacki, will my hot "53" Ford to Diane Caza.
- I, Raymond L. Holcomb, bequeth my Freudian libido pressures to anyone who is familiar with the works of Havelock Ellis. Also, my uncut first edition of Le Fleurs de Mal to Bill Bennett.
- I, Richard Hrisko, will to Joe Burkland one empty beer bottle, hoping that this will solve his problems.

Class Will

I, Jim Hellenberg, will to Don Hotton my car, D.S.T., Black Pete, and my great mind.

I, Mark Ishimaru, will one pair of one point track shoes to Doug Pearson; one BU 1960 - D small date cent to Louis Tokie; one wonderful mono chord to Mrs. Brunke; my old oboe reeds to Marcia Smith, my slide rule and condolences to next year's trig students.

I, Bonnie Kempfer, will to Judy Keen one extra large ratting comb.

I, Jim Kincannon, will to Mr. Ewald my life membership in the L.A. Playboy Club.

I, Harold Klusendorf, will my great personality and friendly smile to anyone in need of them.

I, Mary Ann Kolodziej, will what little ability I have in shorthand to Linda Ferrier.

I, Mickey Kozlowski, will to Mr. Lingle more drafting students like me so he can have more gray hair.

I, Penny Krutschewski, will to Claudia Clippert my contact lenses.

I, Peter Krutschewski, will my Michigan State Liquer License to Dave Cudney.

I, Jim Krepps, will my suavity, debonairity, and orange coat to Billy Bennet.

I, Michael Lyons, will to Mrs. Martiny 6,000,000 sheets of used typing paper.

I, Jay McArthur, will to Troy Kincannon his brothers goldplated church key for his future use.

I, Sue McDiarmed, will to Karen Boulan my old dried eye make-up and an empty can of hair-spray that she gave to me.

I, Carol Bigham, will my brains to the biology class.

I, Dale McGaughey, will six empty beer bottles to David Cudney.

I, Nina Mikiczenko, will my left foot to posterity.

I, Lou Milchynsky, being of sound mind, do hereby will my mad craving for chocolate to Carol Kerna.

I, Bill Muir, will my elevator shoes to Ted Bauer.

I, Carl Murray, leave my green, Goodwill-bound brown stained pajamas to Bev Land.

I, Nancy Neill, will to farmer Diane Davis the book on How To Have Your First Calf.

I, Roger Qualmann, will to Diane Davis my platinum-plated manure fork.

I, Anita Rea, will to Marcia Qualmann 'The Green Snazo'.

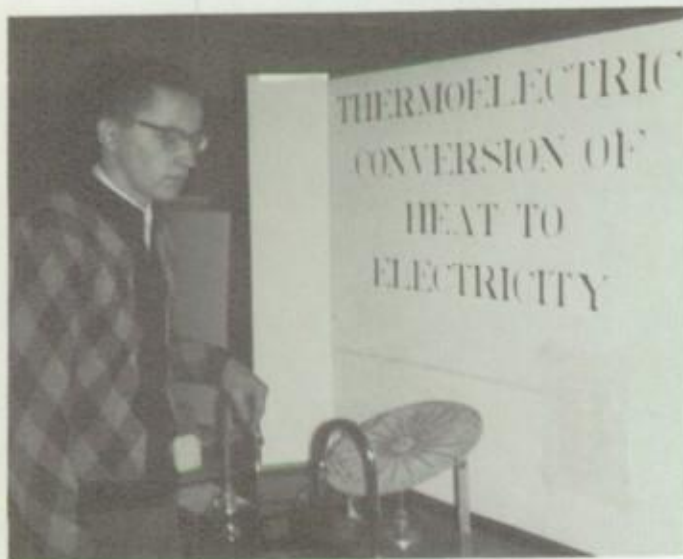

I, Kathy Scott, will my shiney cymbals to Terry McMullen.

I, Larry Smith, will to all Freshmen 3 more years of school; ha ha.

I, Bill Thurston, will to Dave Cudney my bottle opener.

I, Sylvia Witt, will to Mr. Kanehl my Kennedy button.

Science Fair

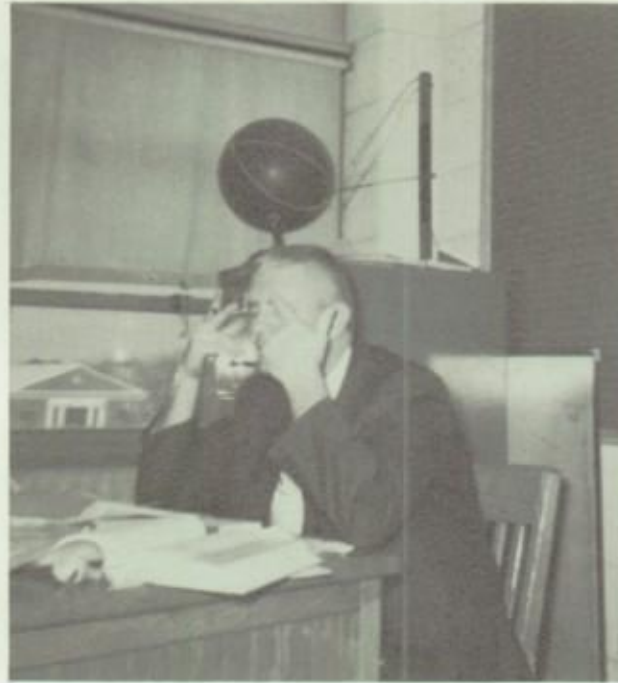

Science Fair Winners: Fay Hershberger, third place, biology; Christine Kionka, third, biology; Bill Muir, second, physics; Kenoah Henning, third, chemistry; Gary Cain, third, physics; Jerry Schrepfer, second, chemistry (ionic compound); Gary Jones, first, physics; Steve Welke, first, biology; Jim Adams, second place, biology (tie); and not pictured: Melissa Rosowski, 1963 Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair, second, 9th grade in collections; Diane Ulseth, tie for second in biology.

This year's science fair contained many interesting projects and evidence of the creative and technical talents of some of our students.

All who saw it got a better understanding and appreciation of the sciences.
